

Suffield Middle School Summer Reading

Immerse yourself in a universe of books this summer! This is a great time to catch up on reading and talk to your parents, guardians, and loved ones about your books.

You should aim to read at least 30 minutes a day, and be sure to complete at least two books in preparation for next year.

Resources and Book Lists

- Governor's Summer Reading Challenge book lists Grades 5-6, Grades 7-8, Grades 9-12
- Coretta Scott King Award Books
- Young Adult Library Services Association (YALSA) Fiction and Nonfiction
- 2020 Nutmeg Nominees Grades 4-6, Grades 7-8, and Grades 9-12
- Good Reads, Good Reads Summer Reading Challenge, Epic Reads, Teen Reads

What To Do This Summer:

1. Read, READ, READ!
2. When you start school, your teacher will ask you to record the books you read on a summer reading Google Form.
3. You will be asked to complete an assignment on the book within the first week of school.

Note to parents/guardians: The texts on these lists are suggestions only. It is always a good idea to know what your children are reading. Try to be aware if the book is too challenging. Practicing in an easier text will build skills that will prepare a reader for more challenging texts, which is why we provide reading lists appropriate for all levels of readers. Make a family reading group and model good reading for your child.
